

The Women’s Foundation of Colorado opens application process for 2013 Girls’ Leadership Council

Program designed to inspire girls to be future leaders, advocates and philanthropists.

Posted: 03/21/2013 10:29:56 AM MDT Updated: 03/21/2013 10:29:56 AM MDT Author: ksporrer

2012 Girls' Leadership Council Participants Photo by Courtesy photo - The Women's Foundation of Colorado

From The Denver Post

TOP STORIES

- Broncos seem likely to stick with Ayers at DE and draft a pass rusher
- Nolan Arenado sent by Rockies to Triple-A; Chris Nelson wins job at 3B
- Scathing audit throws Colorado recreational marijuana rules into chaos
- Woman accused of buying Ebel's gun appears in court
- Denver police name suspect, victim in fatal hit-and-run

Article

Print

Email

Share This

Tweet

About the Author

Kim Sporrer,
APR
Screen Name:
ksporrer

The Women’s Foundation of Colorado (WFCO), a Denver-based nonprofit committed to building resources and leading change so that every woman and girl in Colorado achieves her full potential, is now accepting applications for its 2013 Girls’ Leadership Council (GLC), expanded this year to include 20 participants.

Girls' Leadership Council is a prestigious program created by The Women's Foundation of Colorado coordinated this year in partnership with Girls Inc. of Metro Denver. The program inspires girls to be future leaders, advocates and philanthropists. Participants will engage in a challenging, hands-on program that allows each girl to discover the power to make an impact in her community and reach her full potential.

Applications are now available online at www.wfco.org/GLC and are due Friday, March 29, 2013 at 5 p.m.

“The Girls' Leadership Council is an amazing opportunity for Colorado's high school sophomore girls to participate in a program that has the potential to impact the rest of their lives,” said Louise Atkinson, President & CEO of The Women's Foundation of Colorado. “During a week-long intensive program, the GLC girls acquire life-long leadership skills while also learning about important issues affecting women and girls in Colorado, and even more importantly, how they can make change by using the power of philanthropy.”

 YourHub.com

Like

Like

You like this.

You and 3,603 others like YourHub.com. 3,603 people like YourHub.com.

Any high school sophomore girl in Colorado who will be a junior during the 2013/2014 school year, and is no older than age 17, is eligible to apply for the GLC. Applicant must have a strong interest in and history of extracurricular, volunteer or paid activity/experience in her school and/or community. Applicants should also demonstrate a strong academic record. While GPA will be reviewed, the overall academic assessment will take into account GPA, specific class performance and variety of course enrollment.

Through a competitive application and interview process, The WFCO will invite twenty (20) diverse high school sophomore girls to participate in a one-week summer program on the University of Denver campus to take place July 21-27, 2013. Participants will learn about the latest research on the status of women and girls in Colorado, educational opportunities and economic security for women and girls as well as women in leadership and media, career paths for women, and participate in extensive team and skills-building activities.

Participants of the 2013 Girls' Leadership Council will:

- Investigate, discuss and address issues impacting Colorado's women and girls;
 - Research, conduct site visits and as a collective group grant $20,000 to Colorado nonprofit organization(s) working to reduce the high school drop-out rate among girls;
 - Discover the importance and impact of philanthropy by and for women and girls; and,
 - Live among a community of like-minded peers for one week on the DU campus.
- At the end of the Girls' Leadership Council, two exemplary participants will be selected to each receive a $1,500 Dottie Lamm Leadership Award to support their future educational expenses.

To learn more about the Girls' Leadership Council, visit www.wfco.org/GLC and view a video here: <http://vimeo.com/59194390#>

Share

Short URL <http://dpo.st/163pVsP>

Twee

Facebook

Stumbleupon

Reddit

Digg